Show Title: The Basics of Long-Term Care Insurance

In this episode of The Maryland Construction Network Podcast, Andrew Goetz discusses the basics of Long-Term Care insurance. Long-term care is far from what you expect, and chances are you or a loved one will have the need for it. In this program we quickly examine what it is and how you can affordably protect and preserve assets while minimizing the burden and heartache often encountered in the absence of preplanning for its' need.
